S. ) -- Management. Excerpt: . . . 11 SSA Mr. I. Now for the opening statement, I will yield to the gentleman from Ohio, who is serving for the ranking member today. Mr. Kucinich. UCINICH Mr. K. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I was called by Congresswoman Watson and informed that a death in her family made it imperative that she attend a service in California, and I am glad to fill in so we can start this hearing. After I make this statement, I am going to have to go to another previously scheduled meeting. But I want to welcome the witnesses, and I want to thank the Chair for calling this hearing on conjunctive water management. Mr. Chairman, the need for reliable, high-quality water sources in the United States is clear. The population continues to grow steadily, especially in the arid, thirstiest parts of the country. Demand for water is growing even faster. In fact, many experts fear that the thirsty and rapidly growing Southwestern United States will need water so desperately that it will soon become financially viable for them to try to divert it from the Great Lakes. And that region is expected to experience more frequent, prolonged, and more severe droughts as a result of climate change, making the outlook even more dire. We must look for alternatives. As has been stated before, conjunctive water management is the simultaneous operation of surface water storage and use, ground water storage and use, and conveyance facilities to meet water management needs and crop demand. In a nutshell, it allows storage of large quantities of water, which would...
